a) CZK 100 million and concurrently

b) the average deposits calculated from positive balances on the last day of a particular month from January 1 to November 30 of decisive particular year.

ČSOB will not charge clients this fee if their standard way is not changed i.e. deposits on December 31 do not exceed the amount they normally keep within our business relationship throughout the year.

The calculation includes the total client funds in current, savings, time deposit accounts and deposit bills (notes) in all currencies.

The Bank has the right to charge this fee once a year. The fee is payable no later than the second business day of March in the next year and is debited from the client's fee account. If the client does not have an account for paying fees it is debited from the current account with the highest balance on the due date of the fee. The current CNB exchange rate on that day is used to convert foreign currencies into CZK and vice versa.
